TRADE A MARK.
BRANCH OFFICE
FERTIG BLOCK,
Titusville, Pa.
MANUFACTURERS OF LAP WELDED
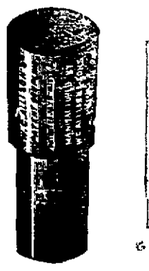
Tubing & Casing
Both Plain and Galvanized, for Oil and Salt Wells, American Charcoal Iron Boiler Tubes, Lap Welded Tubing for Steam and Water.



SOLE MANUFACTURERS OF
W. C. ALLISON'S
PATENT JOINT
Oil Well Tubing.
The Superior Tubing is furnished with heavy sockets, and is cut with a vanishing screw thread corresponding exactly with the thread in the socket, so that when screwed up it has a bearing the whole length of the joint; and the absence of a deep thread on the tube at the end of the socket obviates the liability to break at that point from the vibration caused by the motion of the pump.
Each length and socket is stamped with our trade mark, and is carefully tested before shipment with a hydraulic pressure of 1,200 pounds to the square inch.

NATIONAL

BOSTON, MASS.
MANUFACTURERS OF
LAP-WELDED OIL WELL
Tubing & Casing.
We would call the particular attention of dealers and producers to this make of Tubing and Casing. One of the important features in the manufacture of our Tubing is, that the Lap and the Weld
are made perfectly straight, smooth and uniform, thereby giving equal and great strength to the tubing throughout.
Each joint carefully inspected, reamed at end and proved with the sockets on at a hydraulic pressure of 1,200 pounds to the square inch before shipment.
Each length stamped with our trade mark,
Diamond "B."

The Capitol at Washington.

THE LEADERSHIP OF THE HOUSE.

George William Curtis, in Harper's Magazine for January, has these pleasant and entertaining remarks:

The capitol is the superb and conclusive argument against a removal of the seat of government. It is one of the most imposing buildings in the world. Indeed, there is none for great national purposes to be compared with it. Vast sums of money, however, have been squandered upon it. It is the monument of a thousand shameless jobs. It is a miracle of wasted space and inconvenience. Incongruity and tastelessness and absurdity abound in it. But as you drive over the heights, miles away from the city, that marvelous dome is still the most impressive and beautiful object that you see; and as you stand at night in front of the capitol, when the moon is full, looking at the facade of either end, you feel the truth of the poet's lines,

"Earth proudly wears the Parthenon
As the best gem upon her zone."

The unblemished whiteness of the building is striking. It sparkles in the moonlight. Yet in the fullest sunshine it is never glaring to the distant eye. The neighborhood of Washington is so picturesquely rolling that the dome is constantly set in the finest landscape conditions. Its effect is like that of the grandest natural object—a mountain or the sea; and it gives a character to the entire landscape which otherwise would be wanting. The associations of the city are modern and political; but every great work of plastic art that touches the imagination belongs to the common realm of poetry. On some soft, rich October day, when the warmth of the sun is ripe, not crude, sweet as the juices of the fruits that it mellows, drive to the cemetery on Georgetown Heights, a beautiful and sunny city of the dead. Then pushing out on the Rockville pike, you will see the Potomac Valley to the left and the shining line of the stream, and further round to the right, as you turn, the capitol. Turning at a certain point sharply to the left, and winding round along a narrow road, just upon the verge of the hill as you begin to descend, stop and look.

On such a day, in such a light and air, all things are beautiful. But here, on this rough road, among these untilled fields, this land of whose romance even Hawthorne despaired, you suddenly see at the same moment two of the most memorable views which your memory will bring back from Europe or from all historic and romantic lands. What magic spell enthralls you—for you see at once the dome of St. Peter's from the Villa Doria, and the towered castle of Chillon upon the Lake of Geneva! It is the Capitol dome, with the long white lines of the Georgetown College, which from this point seems to stand upon the edge of the Potomac, that broadens, apparently landlocked, into a placid and gleaming lake. It is a view which adds to the charm of the American landscape the fascination of romantic and historic suggestion. It is one of the pictures which memory never loses, which gives us, in a certain sense, all the beauty with none of the sadness of the scenes which it recalls.

THE HALL OF REPRESENTATIVES.

This is a perilously conspicuous stage. To this room the eyes and ears of the whole country are turned. You may loiter into the gallery during the session, when there is no exciting debate, and watch the members writing and reading newspapers, and chatting and clapping their hands for pages, and moving through the aisles, and pairing upon the sofas in earnest and listless conversation, reposing their honorable feet upon costly furniture, and expectorating at the expense of the nation—and yet the slight orator who is addressing the chair in a voice that you can scarcely hear as you lean from the gallery to listen, will be heard to-morrow morning from Katahdin to the Pacific. He must beware what he says, and before the eyes and ears of forty millions he is at the mercy of the clearer thought, the greater knowledge, the sharper wit of every man around him. Like Hamlet's shadowy father, he must be armed cap-a-pie.

And only he who is so armed can be a leader of the House. Knowledge, experience, imagination, rhetoric, passion, are useless without something more. Upon this field the warrior must not only have every weapon, but he must have every one at hand, so that in an instant he can whip it out, and drive it flashing to its point. He may rise to speak, full of his subject, warm with it, his copious tongue flowing with eloquent persuasion, of his clear intellect shaping the hardest facts to his purpose as a diamond cuts glass; but it is not enough, if he is not ready for every interruption, every question, every innuendo. He must catch every ball tossed at him, and hurl it triumphantly back. The swift reply, the sparkling repartee, the contemptuous sneer, the crafty suggestion—they will all bar his path, and he must throw all lightly down, and go smiling on his way. If he falters, he fails. If he cannot answer every question, and baffle every objection, and turn back every argument, he fails. The weak link of the chain is found, and it is its strongest point.

He is the leader of such a popular assembly who takes the field against all comers, and holds it; and who is able, by sheer personal force, to control the mass. But what familiarity with rules, what quickness, what parliamentary fence, this requires? Ambitious gentlemen come up to the House, promising youth are sent here by admiring constituencies, bravoes and brawlers force themselves in; but the laws are absolute. The ambitious gentleman, fresh from his history of Pym and the Long Parliament, has somehow failed to read what Pym's secret was. The promising youth, who carried everything before him in the college debating society, sits in a ludicrous stupor upon the edge of the charmed arena into which he dare not venture, or ventures only to show that he should not have tried. The bravo, who has bullied or bribed his way to this focus of public attention, finds himself reflected by the telegraph and the press to those forty millions of spectators very much as a rogue is reflected in the detective's photographic gallery. They all thought to be leaders, and they are all ignominiously led.

So there are wise men who serve silently. There are those who, for half a dozen years, are heard only when they answer as the roll is called. It is temperament and real modesty often, and a dismemberment or an inability to speak. Those who are of another kind, do not always remember that they are ever in their great taskmaster's eye—the country's—eye, and they pay the penalty. Repartees in such bodies often live in history longer than speeches. An apt quotation if often better than many arguments. There are unfortunate clever men who have advanced to this scene, and when they stood in the very centre of regard, all their talent and sagacity have suddenly disappeared under a witty repartee. Woe, woe to the hapless representatives over whom close the waters of inextinguishable laughter. Single-speech Hamilton was not more surely and fatally named than he will be. He may have read of the thoroughly equipped soldier, master of strategy and of arms, who marches in pipe-clayed perfection to a victory scientifically sure. Alas! and here darts an Indian from ambush, and with one dexterous turn of his gleaming tomahawk has cleft the head of the soldier, and vanishes with a whoop, dangling triumphantly his dripping token of victory. Alas! alas! but the representative slain upon this floor by a repartee is that perfectly pipe-clayed soldier.

An Editor's Trotters.

From the New York Tribune.

There is a widespread passion in America for the ownership of trotting horses, and in this respect Mr. Bonner, the editor of The New York Ledger, is unusually fortunate. The perfection of his stables is a matter of national comment, for, with beauty of architecture, they combine every requisite for the health and comfort of the horses. The ventilation and drainage are excellent. Every stall has a false floor through which all refuse passes to a scrub-floor of cement, whence it is carried into the sewers. The floor on which the horse stands is perfectly level, thus avoiding that straining of the tendons of the legs consequent upon standing on an inclined surface. The sides of the boxes are of smooth wooden pannels, which present no hold for the horse to seize with his teeth, and thus prevents his acquiring the habit of biting and "cribbing." The partitions are carried high enough to prevent the horses from annoying each other; the doors are of ornamental iron work, and around the building, outside, is a tan-bark walk for exercising the horses in bad weather. Every appliance that could possibly reduce labor and improve the condition of the horses has been adopted.

The first horse the visitor inquires for is Dexter, undoubtedly the highest type of the American trotter. He is a brown horse, with white legs, stands fifteen and a half hands high, and is thirteen years old. His head and neck are finely formed, his eyes brilliant, his shoulders well placed, his legs and feet firm, and his back and loins powerful. For a horse of his size, his thighs are immense. It is almost unnecessary to allude to his breeding. He can be traced to imported Messenger on the sire's side, and to imported Diomed (the winner of the first English Derby) on the dam's side. He was first trained by Hiram Woodruff, and it is not a little singular that in Mr. Bonner's stable, standing in adjoining stalls, are the two horses (Dexter and Peerless) behind which Hiram Woodruff made the best time he ever made in his life, driving the former in harness and the latter to wagon in 2:23½. But Woodruff died before Dexter's speed was fully developed, though he had a premonition that even the 2.18 1-5 which he had seen him make under the saddle on the Fashion Course would in time be surpassed. He was right in this expectation, for 10,000 people saw Dexter trot a heat against Ethan Allen and his running mate in 2:16, although by an unjust regulation, the horse was not allowed to claim that record. It is not asserted, however, that he is entitled to the record of 2:16 as a winning record, but that it is justly his due as the time record of a public performance.

Budd Doble has stated that he drove him in 2:14½ in private, while in a public race he drove him in 2:17¼, and a half mile in 1:06. Good judges believe that by far his greatest achievement the day when Mr. Bonner drove him on the Prospect Park Course, wagon and driver weighing 310½ pounds, in 2:19¼—a performance which, considering the weight carried and the state of the track, was equal to 2:14. It is now four years since Mr. Bonner gave his check for $33,000 for Dexter, and withdrew the horse from the turf, and there is little doubt that Dexter's speed is greater now than it was when he trotted in 2:17½ in Buffalo in the hands of Budd Doble. When Mr. Bonner purchased him it was said that he would be valueless, as he could not be driven with safety on the road. But kindness and good management produced their legitimate results, and Mr. Bonner drives him regularly on the road and through the Central Park.

In the next stall stands the gray mare Peerless, a daughter of American Star and a Messenger mare. Like Dexter, she was bred in that nursery for fast horses, Orange county, and like him also was educated by Hiram Woodruff, who drove her public a mile to wagon in 2:23¼—a performance which only Dexter has surpassed. Peerless has proved a failure as a brood mare, but is a favorite roadster with Mr Bonner, who often drives her double with the veteran Lantern, the two making a fine and fast team.

Lantern comes next, and it is only the curve of the back that shows his age, for his eye is as bright and his legs as clean as on the day he trotted his famous double-team match against Ethan Allen and mate fourteen years ago. Although twenty-four years old, he is still fast, and makes an elegant companion for Peerless, few being able to pass them on the road. In the next stall stands the California mare Princess, the once famous opponent of Flora Temple. She was purchased as a brood mare, to be mated with Edward Everett, the sire of Joe Elliott, Judge Fullerton, and Startle, and she has long been quite lame, but it is anticipated that she will soon recover. From her union with Hambletonian sprang Happy Medium.

The stout black colt in the adjoining box is Membrino Bertie, Mr. Bonner's latest purchase. Bred by Dr. Herr, of Lexington, Kentucky, this colt astonished everybody by trotting a mile, last fall, when two year old, over the Cincinnati course, in 2 41, and repeating in half an hour afterward, in 2 43½. He has since trotted in 2 36½; but not being thoroughly acclimated Mr Bonner does not propose hurrying him. He is a handsome colt, wonderfully developed for a three-year old, and will assuredly make a fast trotter in time. The bay horse in the next box ranks higher in Mr. Bonner's esteem. This is the four-year old colt Startle, by Edward Everett, which was purchased from George Alley, last fall, for $20,000, immediately after winning the three-year old stakes, distancing his opponent, Lothair, in the fast time of 2 38½. Startle has massive, muscular quarters, indicating the possession of immense power. Perhaps no colt ever made such rapid progress in trotting speed as this horse, for when Carl Barr purchased him, in June last year, he could not beat 3 20, and in the following September he won his first race in 2 36½. Last month Mr. Bonner drove him a mile on the Fleetwood Park Course, on a slow track, in 2 28, and had the day and course been favorable, he could have reduced the time considerably. As Startle is only four years old, he has plenty of time for maturing and improving, and experienced judges believe that, when Dexter's time of 2 16 is surpassed, Startle is the horse destined to do it.

The bay gelding Joe Elliott next shown, trotted a heat over the Secaucus Course, N. J., in 1869, in 3.34, his name then being Bayard Colt. Mr. Bonner paid $10 000 for him, and placed him with Carl Barr for training. A few months ago he made a mile on the Fleetwood Course in 2:28½. Bruno occupies the next box, and never was in more superb condition than now. Since Mr. Bonner bought him of Mr. Phyfe he has greatly improved in speed. As a four-year-old he made the best record in a public race, trotting a mile in 2.30 in a gale of wind. With his sister, Brunette, he made also the fastest double-team time, having trotted a mile in 2:25¼. Last on the list stands Pocahontas, the beautiful daughter of the famous pacing mare of the same name and Ethan Allen. A mare of more perfect symmetry and beauty was never foaled; her action when in motion is the perfection of trotting, combining ease, elegance, power and speed in an extraordinary degree. She has trotted only one race in public, namely, against

Society and Fashion.

Black lace veils are pointed and thickly studded with small jet beads. These are very injurious to the eye.

The coiffures of the season are of various styles, presenting braids around the stereotyped French twist, the high roll, towering Pompadour in front, and the very "fixy" and unnatural two curls hanging down the back.

A Fashion authority declares that the old-fashioned waterfalls are coming in style again, where the hair is creped, drawn down over a cushion and covered with a fine silk net. Pretty for blondes, but death to the beauty of brunettes.

The marriage ceremony in ritualist churches last nearly an hour, and is a very imposing ceremony. The priest who officiates usually wears a robe of white satin, trimmed with lace or embroidery and the altar is decorated with flowers, wreaths and banners.

Powder for face purposes with just the shadow of things is becoming more general than it used to be, and rainbows of darkness arching otherwise beautiful eyes, are startling and painful to behold; but the latest of art innovations is the delicate vermilion, used to color the nails and soft palms of the ladies of Belgravia.

At a concert in Boston, a young woman who was disturbing those of the audience seated near her by incessant chattering was summarily silenced by a gentleman who handed her a piece of paper on which he had written the suggestion that she might not be conscious that she was revealing family secrets to a large circle of editors.

Musical and Dramatic.

Schneider has received present of a comb worth $8,000.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Howard will be the next stars at the Troy theatre—appearing of course in their great specialty, Uncle Tom's Cabin—Mr. H. as St. Clair, and Mrs. H. as Topsy.

Charlotte Cushman will read in Tremont Temple, Boston, on the evenings of the 4th, 6th and 8th of January, 1872, giving portions of Shakespeare's Henry III and miscellaneous selections.

Mr. Joseph Jefferson reaps a rich harvest from his famous creation, "Rip Van Winkle," clearing one hundred thousand dollars annually by playing only six months in the year.

Vestvali, the magnificent, will visit this country in the spring She recently gave a performance for the benefit of the Chicago sufferers, and is, consequently, receiving much advertising in advance.

M. Edouard Gassier, a well-known baritone singer, died at Havana, Cuba, on Sunday. He was born in France in 1823, and received his musical education at the Paris Conservatory of Music. In 1847 M. Gassier married Mlle. Cubas, a Spanish woman of some reputation as a soprano singer.

Mr. Lawrence Barret opened the Varieties Theatre, New Orleans, on Monday night Dec. 4. An opening address, written by Mr. E. C. Hancock was spoken by Mr. Barrett. The opening play was Mr. James Albery's comedy of "Coquettes." The receipts at the box-office amounted to $3,000. The new Varieties is said to be the handsomest theatre in America.

The Schenectady Star alluding to the slim audience that greeted Miss Edgarton, who lectured in Dorp on Saturday evening, says bitterly that if the "Lecture Committee would effect an engagement with a circus company or a minstrel troupe they might be able to draw a respectable (in size at least) audience. Lectures don't take worth a cent in Schenectady."

A new era seems to be dawning upon Maine. For the last few years its population has been nearly stationary, and its business much depressed, owing to the great prostration of ship building and the carrying trade, and the imperfection and poverty of its railway system. But now the various lines have accomplished quite a revolution, and there is every indication that the next few years will witness a rapid and unparalleled increase in this border state.

WATERS' PIANOS AND ORGANS.—The agent of Horace Waters, of 481 Broadway, New York, respectfully informs the residents of Titusville and vicinity that he has opened a store in Wakefield Block, opposite the Parshall House, where he has on exhibition, for a short time only, several first-class pianos and organs, which he offers for sale at great bargains for cash, and on monthly instalments of from $5 to $25 until paid for; or the same will be rented, and the rent allowed in the purchase. The Waters' pianos are made of the best seasoned material, and have long enjoyed an enviable reputation for their power and brilliancy of tone, elasticity of touch and beauty of finish; while for general excellence and durability they are among the best in the market. The Waters' organs combine all the recent improvements in the cabinet organ, and include an entirely new vox humana tremolo. Parties wishing to rent or purchase are invited to examine these instruments, as an opportunity is now offered them to secure a good one on easier terms than have ever before been offered in Titusville. Second-hand instruments taken in exchange.

JOHN F. WOOD, Agent.

THE FAIR at Duffi's Hall, to raise funds for the new German Catholic Church, and assist in relieving St. Titus Church from debt, is nightly drawing crowds. The hall is a very fine one for the purpose, and is handsomely fitted up and supplied with tables, booths, piano, shooting gallery, fish-pond, post-office, barber's pole, election polls, and all the other et cetera to interest the sportsman, please the crowd, and give innocent recreation to old and young. Every night adds some novelty to vary the programme. In the line of toys and holiday goods for Santa Claus, and substantial and useful articles to present to wife, husband or friends as Christmas or New Year's gifts, the tables at the fair afford an excellent change for selections. The voting is growing lively between the friends of the different candidates for gent's gold watch, lady's ditto, gent's gold-headed cane, gents' dressing gown, lady's ditto, a barber's pole, clerical cassock, pair of skates, dear little doll, &c.

The different tables are presided over by the following named ladies, aided of course by a numerous corps of young and engaging (but not engaged) assistants:

Dry goods—Mrs. M. Spiesman.
Jewelry—Mrs. B. J. Reid.
Perfumery and toilet—Mr. H. W. Leslie.
Candy and fruit—Mrs. Stanley and Mrs. Johnson.
Ice-cream and cake—Mrs. Crotty.
Toys—Mrs. J. Theobold.
Variety—Mrs. Louis Mayer.

Go and see for yourselves.

DURABLE PRESENTS—The Knabe & Co.'s Pianos, which cannot be excelled in America. Warranted by the manufacturers fifteen years or longer if desired. For sale at the Opera House Music Store.

TO THE PUBLIC.—The full set of the three new maps of the oil region are now completed and ready for delivery.

They form a complete exposition of the lines of all territory and the situation of all producing spots from Corry to Brady's Bend, and will repay their cost to the producer in perhaps a single operation.

We desire to state emphatically that the prices of the maps will remain the same as long as a copy is sold, the value of the work, as will be readily seen, being greatly enhanced by a limited circulation. The unusual demand for the work, even while incomplete, is the best proof of its merit.

Price of each map, separate, $100, with $1.00 each for revised additional plates. Price of whole set $300, including revised additional plates. Wrigley & Gray, Civil Engineers, office building on Pine street, beyond Abbott House, Titusville.

DAY BOARD at the Sherman House for $6.00 per week. Tickets for twenty-one meals $7.00.

NEW YORK MARKET.—The proprietors of the New York Market propose to serve their customers during the holidays, or at all times, with some of the choicest beef ever brought into the Titusville market. The actual weight in dressed beef of one pair five year old steers, is 2,000 pounds. Also, a choice lot of poultry and fresh meats of all kinds. Those wishing to make the coming Christmas what it is designed to be—a merry and festive one—will please give us a call, and satisfy themselves as to price and quality, and in so doing leave an order.

The Great Pictorial Annual. Hostetter's United States Almanac for 1872, for distribution, gratis, throughout the United States, and all civilized countries of the Western Hemisphere, is now published and ready for delivery, in the English, German, French, Norwegian, Welsh, Swedish, Holland, Bohemian and Spanish languages, and all who wish to understand the true philosophy of health should read and ponder the valuable suggestions it contains. In addition to an admirable medical treatise on the causes, prevention and cure of a great variety of diseases, it embraces a large amount of information interesting to the merchant, the mechanic, the miner, the farmer, the planter, and professional man; and the calculations have been made for all meridians and latitudes as are most suitable for a correct and comprehensive NATIONAL CALENDAR.

The nature, uses, and extraordinary sanitary effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the simple tonic and alterative of more than half the Christian world, are fully set forth in its pages, which are also interspersed with pictorial illustrations, valuable recipes for the household and farm, humorous anecdotes, and other instructive and amusing reading matter, original and selected. Among the Annuals to appear with the opening of the year, this will be one of the most useful, and may be had for the asking. The proprietors Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa., on receipt of a two cent stamp, will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood. The Bitters are sold in every city, town and village, and are extensively used throughout the entire civilized world.

PARTIES at Rugville and vicinity should call at J. R. Holden's new hardware store for stoves, tinware, etc.

D Harris & Brother will offer special inducements in the dry goods line to-day. Their attractive advertisement will appear in our columns to-morrow.

OBITUARY.—Mr. Isaac Oakford, the well known Philadelphia hatter, died on Sunday morning last at his residence in that city. Deceased was the father of George W. Oakford, hatter, of this city.

RELIGIOUS NOTICE.—Rev. A. Murdoch, pastor of the Baptist Church in this city, will preach in the school house at Miller Farm this evening at 7½ o'clock. All are invited to attend.

BALLS ON CHRISTMAS NIGHT.—The Golden Rule Council No. 133 O. U. A. M., gave a ball at Keown's Hall on Christmas night. The carpenter's of the oil regions also gave a ball on the same evening at Lowry Hall. Both were largely attended.

POLICE MATTERS.—Franklin street in the neighborhood of Water street was during Christmas forenoon kept in a state of ferment by the pugilistic proclivities of a gang of intoxicated individuals. A free fight of half an hour's duration took place in one of the saloons, and the principals were finally arrested. There were a good many cases of drunkenness in the lock-up.

AMONG the contents of the Ledger, January 6th, will be found original contributions from Alfred Tennyson, the poet laureate of England, Rev. James McCosh, D. D., LL. D., President of Princeton college, Rev. John Hall, D. D., of New York, Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, Hon. Horace Greeley, Hon. John G. Saxe, and other distinguished writers.

POSTAL.—The mail route service on the Union and Titusville Railroad begins today, Winfield Cummings, of Riceville, mail messenger. The mail train will leave at 10:10 a. m. and reach Union City at 12. 15 p m; returning will leave Union City at 12:40 p m. and arrive at Titusville at 2.55 p.m. The offices to be supplied by the new service are, Oil Creek Boro (Hydetown) Steuben (Tryonville,) Centreville, Riceville, Lincolnville, Bloomfield and Union City. The route will be of great value to Riceville, Lincolnville and Bloomfield. The others are all now well supplied by other railroad routes. For the last month or two Riceville has had the worst mail accommodations of any place of its size in the country.

THE communication which appeared in the HERALD of Monday, on the subject of "Infant Mortality," escaped the attention of the editors, or it would have been consigned to the waste-basket. We are not in the habit of publishing letters upon any topic without careful revision, excepting from well-known and esteemed correspondents. In this instance, however, through an inexplicable oversight, the letter escaped inspection and was seen only by the proof-reader. It seems hardly necessary to state that we entirely dissent from the views expressed by the writer referred to, who we learn is Mr. J. F. Porter of Tidioute, a gentleman of spotless character and high personal worth, but holding extreme and peculiar views in matters of sociology, communism and religion.

I WOULD respectfully call the attention of the public to my large stock of holiday goods, consisting of all articles usually offered by merchants in my line at this season. Particular pains have been taken in selecting my holiday stock, and the large variety of novelties and beautiful articles offered, surpasses that of any former season. It would be a useless and tiresome task to attempt to enumerate the list, but a delightful pastime for all interested in buying Christmas gifts, to call and see for themselves. "Seeing is believing."

CAUTION.—I have a sufficiently large stock of these goods, so that those who live at a distance, or who are prevented by sickness or other reasons from getting to my store the first of the week, will not be disappointed. "I advertise no goods but those in stock." J. M. FUNK.

Titusville, Penn., Dec. 11, 1871.

THE DOGHERTY AND SMITH CASE—ESCAPE OF A PRISONER.—Mr. Van Ulrich was arrested on Christmas day by Chief Rouse on a telegram received from ex-chief of police Harris of Erie. He was committed to the lock up and remained there until late in the evening, but was subsequently released upon Mr. John Meising going his bail. He was conveyed to Erie in charge of chief Rouse yesterday morning. Mr. Harris, Mr. Rouse and the prisoner were seen in company at the depot, waiting the arrival of the Russian Prince Alexis. There was an immense crowd in attendance, the principal thoughts of all present seemed settled on the Royal visitor, which was a lucky circumstance for Mr. Van Ulrich as it turned out afterwards. When our informant left on the Corry train Mr. ex-chief Harris was seen wildly waving his hat to the conductor, as a signal of distress. The conductor stopped the train and Mr. Harris announced that Mr. Van Ulrich had escaped from the custody of Chief Rouse. It is not improbable that Mr. Van Ulrich joined the Royal party on the special train going west. Mr. Van Ulrich, it is well known, is a relative of King William, and he was doubtless recognized by the Grand Duke, when he was lost sight of by Harris and Rouse, in the extraordinary excitement of the occasion.

The Doherty and Smith's case was up for a hearing at Erie yesterday; but was postponed till Friday for the want of an important witness, and that witness was Mr. William Van Ulrich, who has mysteriously disappeared as above stated.

Christmas.

Christmas this year was a green Christmas. The promise of snow, suggestive of sleighrides with robes and bells, and jolly company, melted away, and the streams and ponds were in a half fluid state. Still the day was kept as a holiday by all classes. In the Catholic and Episcopal Churches there were the usual religious observances and exercises, but all denominations seem now to vie with each other in celebrating Christmas with Sunday School festivities, church decorations of wreaths, crosses, emblems, mottoes, Christmas trees, luminous, and hung with a profusion of gifts.

The Sunday school exercises were the marked feature of the public observance of Christmas. The hotels treated their guests to extra bills of fare. The shops and stores were generally closed, except where the holiday trade was still kept up. In the evening some social organizations held their annual balls in different parts of the city, and there were no serious disturbances of the peace and order of the town. We give a brief synopsis of the various church festivals on Christmas and yesterday:

BAPTIST S. S. FESTIVAL.

The Baptist Church festival was held last Monday night. The church was crowded with relatives and friends of the children. A large Christmas tree, reaching to the ceiling, bore presents and candies for all the members of the school. After the exercises, which consisted of singing, recitations, &c, Santa Claus made his appearance from the tower, and dispensed his benefactions. The Rev. A Murdoch received an elegant dressing gown from the ladies of the congregation, a valuable Bible bound in morocco and gold from his Bible class, and several other gifts. The superintendent, Mr. R. E Winsor, received a fine steel engraving, beautifully framed; Miss Hattie Gibbs and Miss Ada Potter a pair of handsome baskets; Mrs. R E. Winsor, a pair of enameled vases; Mrs. Young an elegant album and toilet sets, and all the other teachers valuable gifts. The singing was under the leadership of Mr. B. Bosch, and the whole affair was a very pleasant one.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH FESTIVAL.

The Universalist Sunday school festival took place on Christmas night. The church was beautifully decorated with evergreens, the walls bearing the following inscriptions: Over the chancel the words "God Our Father," "Christ Our Savior," "God is Love." On the right, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will to men," and on the left, "I am the tree of life," the words beautifully entwined round a tree. On the south wall, were emblems representing Faith, Hope and Charity, and on the south wall the words, "We have seen His star in the east, and have come to worship Him." The gallery was also decorated with various inscriptions, such as "Suffer little children to come unto me," "In God we trust," etc, etc. A large Christmas tree, loaded with presents for the children, stood near the chancel, which, of course, was the greatest object of attraction to the little ones. The church was filled to repletion, a large number of visitors having either to stand or go away. The exercises consisted of singing by the children, addresses by Mr. J. A. Hooper, the Superintendent, and the Rev. J. M Bailey, pastor; after which a Christmas drama, entitled Frost, Ice and Snow, was rendered by the following young ladies dressed in white: Miss Ella Henderson represented Frost; Miss Flora Augier, Ice; Miss Ida Henderson, Snow; the first angel was Miss Nelly Brett, the second angel Miss Anna Vanetta, and Clara Todd represented Peace. The children then sang "Gather round the Christmas Tree," after which Santa Claus, represented by J. H. Little, made his appearance. The work of distributing the presents then commenced, which occupied the balance of the evening. The festival was a brilliant success, and the children went home happy and contented, each bearing a present.

THE PRESBYTERIAN FESTIVAL.

The annual Christmas festival of the Presbyterian Sunday School took place last evening, the church being densely packed with spectators. The altar was handsomely decorated with evergreens, a huge arch occupying the front of the pulpit, bearing the inspriction "Glory to God in the Highest." Above, suspended in front of the altar, was the Emblematic Star, and on the right and left of the altar was a large evergreen tree, profusely laden with gifts for the little ones.

Singing—"Joyful, Joyful once again;" prayer, by the pastor; the advent of Christ, by the school; singing—Don't you hear the Angels, solo by Miss Pauline Hazzard; recitation, by Robbie Hall; an acrostic, by the infant class; Christmas carol, "Peace upon Earth;" recitation, by Mamie Andrews; the Christian's Christmas Tree—Guardian of the tree, Miss Jennie Shugert; characteristics of Christ—Represented by Alwilda Adams, Lillie Leslie, Anna Hazzard, Flora Porter, Mary Taylor, Taree McCullough; Fruits of Christ's Mission—Represented by Lizzie Fletcher, Lida Evans, Tannie Thayer, Lulu Thompson, Alice Lowrie, Lulu Ripley; address, by Mr. C. A. Brown; presentation of certificates; Christmas carol, "Merry Christmas."

At the close of the above exercises, Mr. Sinclair was called upon to present some choice and valuable books to the worthy Superintendent, Mr. Silliman and his wife. The volumes were a present from the teachers of the Sabbath School and some members of the congregation, as a slight token of appreciation for their valuable services both in the church and school. Mr. Sinclair's remarks were delivered with his usual good taste and felicity of language, and Mr. Silliman replied in a very appropriate and happy manner.

At the conclusion of these interesting exercises, the doors of the lecture room were thrown open and refreshments were served to the children in satisfying abundance. It was a happy reunion for teachers and scholars, and the musical and literary exercises were highly entertaining to all in attendance.

THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH FESTIVAL

The Episcopal Church was thronged last evening, on the occasion of the festival of the Sunday School connected with St. James Memorial Church. The interior was tastefully decorated with evergreens, the chancel, columns, arches and windows were one mass of beautiful green pendants and trimmings. The exercises consisted of singing, recitations, etc., and some appropriate remarks by the pastor. The worthy rector, Mr. Purdon addressed the school in his usual effective and earnest manner. He spoke of the situation of Bethlehem, and the peculiarity of its soil and climate, the caves and holes in the rocks which abounded in that country, the hiding places of wolves and foxes, of the shepherds who were accustomed to watch the flocks by night, to guard them against the depredations of wild beasts. While thus engaged that the angels appeared unto them and announced the birth of our Savior, the redeemer of the world, which glorious anniversary we with pious joy and reverence celebrate on Christmas day. It was the day that commemorates the great gift of God to man, and it was emphatically a day for gifts to children.

After the address the congregation and children adjourned to the school house, where the crowd became even greater. There were two Christmas trees reaching to the ceiling, with a wide circumference of boughs, illuminated with wax tapers and hung with cornucopias. The Christmas boxes were displayed in the form of a cross, and each scholar was the recipient of a gift. Mr. P. W. Garfield the superintendent, Mr. Wm. H. Abbott, Mr. C F. Fowler and Cirus Fuller distributed the presents as the names were called off. The rest of the evening was spent in a pleasant social manner.

TRINITY CHAPEL FESTIVAL.

There were Christmas exercises at Trinity Church, (Methodist Episcopal (colored) yesterday. The vocal and instrumental music was under the leadership of Professor Cook. The Christmas tree bore presents for all the scholars of the Sunday school. There were also speeches, recitations, &c.

ROMAN CATHOLIC CHRISTMAS FESTIVAL.

The St. Titus Church children's festival was held in St. Joseph's School at three o'clock last Monday afternoon. The room was beautifully decorated with evergreens and a Christmas tree stood at one end, containing presents of clothing, toys, confectionary, etc. The exercises were superintended by the Sisters of Mercy, who have entire charge of this school, and consisted of singing, recitations, etc. The children performed their parts very credit ably, which gave great satisfaction to the large number of relatives and friends who were present.

THE SAENGERBUND CONCORDIA.

The Saengerbund Concordia held a concert at their hall on Christmas night. There was a large attendance of both lady and gentlemen members. Several fine selections and solos were rendered, after which supper was served, and speeches became the order of the evening. Mr. Joseph Hœing, and Mr. F. F. Nuss, were remarkably eloquent and brilliant in their remarks on the occasion, which elicited rounds of applause from the audience Great preparations are being made by the Concordia to celebrate the New Year.

Lecture Platform.

—Miss Kate Stanton, of Boston, was announced to put in an extra lecture in the regular series, last evening, on the subject "Whom to Marry." This looks something like "A bold stroke for a Husband," which was to have been performed on the same evening at the Boston Museum.

—Mrs. Abby Sage Richardson is to lecture soon on "Incidents of the Chicago Fire." Mrs. Richardson was booked for a lecture in Titusville early in the season, but for some reason failed to meet her appointment.

—Kate Field is said to be a good pistol shot. Her lecture last winter was not much of a "hit," and we are glad to learn she is improving in target practice.

—James Anthony Froude, the historian, has finally decided to come to this country next fall to lecture throughout the season.

—Fred Douglass is lecturing on San Domingo. He accompanied the U. S. Commissioners to Hayti, and was thoroughly converted to "annexation."

—"Queer folks and Queer Doctrines of the Age" is the subject of a lecture by John Giffin. It must be an inexhaustible topic. As Johny Crapeau remarked "Mon Dieu, what a country! Three hundred religions and only one gravy."

—The Rev. Edward Fontaine, of Louisiana, is lecturing on "America Before the Discovery of Columbus." Much he knows about it, except what Chris. learned from the "salvages."

—Mrs. Celia Burleigh is credited with having written an able and instructive lecture concerning the rights of children. She says that in an age whose best thinkers are occupied with the problem of wrongs to be righted, it seems that there should be a place for those of children. Every atom in the universe is in contact with those around it; so children's rights seem trivial but underlie our social system. She then discusses the rights of children in their various bearings, the first of which is to be well born, to be made physically comfortable and to enjoy an opportunity for natural an enforced development. Second to none is the right to be taught obedience. The will of the parent should be a law without appeal. Many other rights are spoken of at length, developing many admirable ideas, though some, in the present state of public opinion, may appear visionary and impracticable.

—Rev. Henry Ballows, D D., of New York, recently lectured before a large assemblage on "The Break Between Modern Thought and the Ancient Creeds." Dr. Bellows believes that the skepticism in regard to the doctrines of Christianity which is apparent among scientific men will do no harm in the progress of religious faith. The most devout believers are found among uneducated persons, and there is a fixed faith in the teachings of the Holy Bible apparent among the lower classes, so-called, which will always constitute a strong basis of religion in the land, and such persons would be the last to lend an ear to opponents of the Christian religion. But the physical demonstrations which are noticeable among these persons in their religious services will be done away with in time, and the religious observances will be characterized by a purer and nobler style of worship. Ancient ceremonies, fastings, penances, and self-inflicted bodily punishments will pass away, and Christianity will have a wider and stronger influence as civilization and education become more widely spread throughout the world.

—Boston is having a surfeit of lyceum lectures. Last week she took in the following: Miss Anna E. Dickinson, on "Demagogues and Workingmen;" the Rev. J. D. Fulton, D. D., on the "Perils and Possibilities of American Womanhood;" Mrs. Celia Burleigh of Brooklyn, Conn., on "The Rights of Children;" Colonel Caroll D. Wright on "War, God's Missionary;" General J. R. Hawley, on "Rings and Lobbyists;" the Rev. James B Dunn, on "People of Whom Something Might be Made;" James T. Fields, Esq., "A Plea for Cheerfulness;" the Rev. G. W. Woodruff of New Haven, on "Bright Days Abroad;" and the Rev. J. D. Fulton, D. D. in the South Baptist Church, on "Whom Shall We Trust."

—B. F. Taylor, the poet-journalist, is lecturing on "The Old Time and the New," and is winning for himself an enviable fame for something more than mere platform oratory. He is a student and thinker. In his careful elaboration of words and sentences there is bound up valuable thought, the experience of years, and the natural study of mankind. He always attracts those who love learning, admire the graces of oratory and are enraptured with eloquence.

Will you please inquire why the Coroner's inquest in the case of Roberts block calamity have abandoned their investigation, without finding a verdict? The public would like to know the result of their deliberations.

DENOMINATIONAL EDUCATION.

TITUSVILLE, Dec. 27, 1871.

Editors Morning Herald:

In reply to "Spectator's" criticism in your issue of the 20th of December on the lecture of Rt. Rev. Bishop McQuade, in Rochester, I say, having read the lecture through, that the Bishop made no assertions, but merely quoted the opinions of the press, public speakers, and presidents of colleges, as proof of his arguments on the subject of denominational education, from 1840 up to the present date. "Spectator" says he does not know what the Bishop means by saying among other things that the day would come when Catholics would have their rights in this country. I answer in reply, their rights are simply these, that Catholic parents shall be the keepers of the conscience of their own children; that there shall be a denominational system of education in this country; that as Catholics, Baptists, Jews and others pay their share of the public school taxes, they shall be entitled to a proportionate share of the public school fund for the support of schools of their own, where religion, the Bible (not King James') and education shall go hand in hand. "Spectator" says the lecture admits of no argument, which assertion I fully agree with. The Bishop stated that religion should be the basis of all education, in proof of which, quoting from Governor Brown, of Missouri, who said at a teachers' convention held in St. Louis in August last, that the greatest criminals in the land were educated criminals, and Doctor Peck, president of the board of trustees in Syracuse University, who said the hope of our country is the christian religion. I could go on ad infinitum quoting, to prove that education without religion is worse than no education, though not always in a worldly point of view. But living as we are in a christian community, we believe that the whole man ought to be educated, both morally and mentally. I would sincerely wish that all would read the Bishop's lecture, and take a fair and impartial view of the merits and demerits of the subject. It is to be found in the Irish World of the 23rd inst. You can then form an opinion of the criticism of "Spectator." O. P. M.

POLICEMAN DOGHERTY'S VERSION.

Editors Morning Herald:

I will beg the use of your columns to make a plain statement of the trouble I got into in Erie, as interested parties have distorted it to prejudice me and other parties. On Saturday morning last I was at Erie, having gone there to arrest ex-Chief of the Police Harris on two warrants issued by Strouse, on the complaint of Mr. Von Ulrich, of this city. The ground of one of the warrants was obtaining money under false pretences, and that of the other, collecting illegal fees. I first sought out Mr. Smith, the Chief of Police at Erie, and made known my business. He asked me if I wished him to arrest Mr. Harris. I told him I did. He then took one of the warrants, I keeping the other. After some search he discovered Harris on the street, and went up to him and had some conversation, served the papers, and took Harris to the lock-up, telling me that he would be there till train time. As I was leaving the lock-up, some citizens of Erie came up and asked what I was going to do with Harris. I told them I had been sent with papers to arrest him and take him to Titusville. The parties expressed their surprise and said Harris was a clever fellow and they did not think he would do anything out of the way. I replied I had only my duty to do as an officer in executing the warrant. They invited me to take a glass of ale and I did so. I took two glasses of ale with the party, and a cigar, and that is all I imbibed, and it did not affect my senses at all. I then excused myself and said I would get my dinner (I had no breakfast that morning and was very faint), and went to the Ellsworth House. While I was waiting there in came Smith, the Chief of the Police, and said, Dogherty, you are wanted in Court. I went to court in the Justices' office. Harris was there on a writ of habeas corpus. A Judge was there. The court room was full. After some proceedings the judge told Harris he was discharged. The court adjourned. Then Mr. Smith sung out to me, "Dogherty give me your other warrant. I gave Smith the warrant; with that he arrested him. He told me to handcuff Harris, and then the rescue commenced. I put the handcuffs on one of his hands; his friends began to hustle me and to interfere, and I held on till the judge came up and ordered me under arrest for contempt. When this case is investigated, and the facts brought out, I shall be found to have done nothing out of the line of my duty, or unbecoming an officer. I ask a suspension of judgment till that investigation. All I ask is "fair play." JOHN DOUGHERTY.

REMARKS.—There are always two sides to a story, and Mr. Dogherty's version puts another face on the Erie fracas. If any one was to blame for arresting Mr. Harris on the second warrant, it was Smith, and not Dogherty, as the latter merely obeyed the orders of his superior. We do not see how there could have been a contempt of court if court was not in session, and if it was in session how could it be contempt to serve and execute legal process? The zeal of Mr. Harris' friends seems to have outrun their discretion. It is the misfortune of an officer to be charged with undue levity in one case, or undue severity in others. The arrest of Mr. Harris was not popular in Erie where he resides, but Mr. Dogherty is not the complainant, and should not be held responsible for the arrest. We know nothing of the merits of the case. That is altogether a side issue. Officers must be sustained in the discharge of their duty or the law itself is brought into contempt. Mr. Dogherty was a stranger in Erie, where the defendant in the process is at home and among his friends, but the people of Titusville, whom, in a certain sense, John Dogherty represents, will not see John struck down and wronged, but will see that he has fair play and a chance to vindicate his whole conduct.

CHRISTMAS AT HYDETOWN

Editors Morning Herald:

Christmas eve was an occasion of unusual interest and profit in Hydetown.

Rev. T. G. Whitcomb (Universalist) held services in the "Assembly Hall" of the Union School Building, which was appropriately decorated and illuminated for the occasion.

The Elder spoke to a densely-crowded house from the text "But when the fullness of time was come God sent forth His son" (Gal. IV. chap 4th verse) and although the services were somewhat lengthy the audience did not tire of the subject or the able manner in which it was handled.

The music on this occasion was also worthy of mention, both as creditable to the choir and highly entertaining to the congregation.

It might also be of interest to add that the next morning the Elder found some difficulty in putting on the first covering of his dexter pedal extremity; but this slight perplexity was soon made clear to his mind by the discovery of a roll of "greenbacks" in the lower portion of the before-mentioned garment, which he justly attributed to the meddling propensity of "Santa Claus." Oil News.

Our report of Monday that the Fisher well at Cash Up had been increased to one hundred barrels per day, is refuted by the owners and other operators there. Although the well increased largely after being torpedoed, it rapidly declined, and is now pumping from five to eight barrels daily.

PETERSBURG AND FOXBURG OIL DISTRICT.—The Fox estate is erecting a large new hotel at Foxburg, which will be completed about the 1st of January. Mr. Sterrett, of the Phillips house at Parker Station, has leased the hotel, and will open it as soon as completed. The A. V. R. company is putting down more side tracks and switches, and erecting a new station house, and as soon as the hotel is opened the cars will stop at that point for meals, instead of Parkers. Foxburg is becoming quite a town; it already boasts of two hotels, a large hardware and dry goods store, a bank, an excessive machine shop, livery stable, lumber yard, feed store, groceries, eating-houses, etc., and a large number of comfortable and tasty dwelling houses. Matthews, the cashier of the new bank, is a thorough and clever business man. Mr. Palmer and his two gentlemanly sons are superintending the immense Fox estate, and managing a number of good oil wells of their own. S. S Marshall, a live man runs the lumber yard of D. W. Beers & Co. J. E Coulter, formerly of Clarion, is conducting the immense hardware and dry goods establishment of Porterfield & McCombs. A. Vandersall, and E Wilson, each keep groceries and restaurants

On the road east, towards Petersburg, about one mile from Foxburg, is situated the town of East Foxburg. It is on what was formerly the Rupert Farm The Finley House, built and kept by Harris Finley, is a favorite stopping place, where good meals, comfortable beds, and every reasonable accommodation is afforded Panton and Nolan, the well known oil men, are the proprietors of the farm, and reside here. Parker and Dennison have a large grocery, provision and feed store, nearly opposite the Finley House. There is a telegraph office, two hardware stores, a restaurant, shoe shop &c. This place is surrounded by oil wells The Finley house is heated throughout by gas, from the big gas well near by. Martin Harm & Co, own land adjoining, on which there are several good wells. A new strike on the Culner farm between St. Petersburg and East Foxburg, was recently made by James Panton. It is producing about 35 barrels of oil a day. M'Cullen and Sanderson, on the Shoup farm, adjoining the Culner farm, made a big strike on the 12 h inst The well is yielding some 65 barrels a day.

ST. PETERSBURG, two miles east of Foxburg, was a village previous to the past summer, with one store, a hotel, blacksmith shop, and a few other small establishments and dwelling houses Since the strikes made in the neighborhood last August, it has grown to be a town of large dimensions—being nearly a mile long, and building up so rapidly that it is impossible to enumerate the various establishments and business men. The following might be mentioned as some of the leading establishments: J. B. Donaldson & Co's drug store, Chalfant, Graff & Co's hardware store, Seymour Taylor & Co's hardware store, Bickeslee & Co's machine shop, M. Goldsmith's hotel, Asa Balliet's hotel, J. M. Place, news dealer and postmaster, Hiram Beals, meat shop, George Phillip's bakery, Henry Fulmer's boarding house, Hopkins & Dorne, physicians, J. Birch, tank builder, Wm H. Whitting, photographer, W. H Steffee's restaurant, Culner's store, Bennett's hardware store, Johnston's drug store, Wing's grocery, and a great many other establishments, old, new, and getting ready.

There is a new well on the Funk lot, north of Petersburg, going about ten barrels. The territory between Petersburg and the Grass Flats, is well dotted over with derricks. A new strike has just been made in this locality by Frank Fertig, doing twelve barrels. Two new strikes have also been made, near the Grass Flats, on the Pulmer lot, by Gaily Soult and Dower. A new strike was made last week, at the lower end of the Grass Flats, on the south side of the Clarion, on the Fox land, yielding seventy-five barrels a day. There is a large number of producing wells along the Clarion river at this point, and all holding their own, and some increasing their production.

ANTWERP CITY is a town laid out and being built up on the Ashbaugh farm, one mile east of Petersburg, where the celebrated Hulings well is located, which for several weeks has steadily produced 80 barrels of oil a day. Twenty-five new derricks are up within sight of the town.

About one mile further east is located the Neely well, which has been producing largely for several weeks; but at the time of our visit had fallen off somewhat, but this was considered only temporary. On the road, near this point, P. Graham & Co., have opened a large dry goods store. A number of new derricks are up and drilling about commencing in this locality. A short distance east, near Keating's Furnace, on the Stubble lot, a well is almost completed. The most of the land, for some distance further east and north has been purchased or leased, and wells are being commenced. North of Petersburg, and all the way to Salem, new wells are going down. The coming winter and spring will see a large amount of this county developed as oil territory. Pioneers are going ahead leasing and preparing to put down wells in Beaver, Salem, Ashland, Licking, Toby, Madison and other townships, and at various points further up the Clarion river.—Clarion Democrat

SURPRISED.—There are about 50,000 barrels of crude oil held by a couple of companies in St. Catharines. The oil is in a tank or some other safe place, in or about Petrolia, and as the companies will not join the Oil Association, the members have thought of erecting a refinery of their own or adopting some means of having the oil refined. The owner of a refinery thereabout, says the Journal, thought he would "put in" for the job of refining, but when he came to calculate the capacity of his refinery, and the quantity of crude oil to be refined, he found that it would take him just forty years to perform the work. He was most wonderfully surprised, while the holders of the oil engaged in a most uproarious laugh. At the rate of 100 barrels per day, it will require nearly seventeen months to dispose of the large quantity of oil held by our local companies.

REV. SAMUEL G. BROWN, D. D. President of Hamilton College. Basis, part of Rehearsal.

Cincinnati Morning Herald

Severe.

From the Missouri Democrat.

Cincinnati is making a muster of her hotel accommodations, and finds that there are sixteen hundred and sixty rooms in all for sojourners. This includes all from the first-class Burnett House to the third-class bag-roost. If we were to count the accommodations of St Louis on the same indiscriminate scale, we should figure up about 5,000; but when we speak of a hotel in St. Louis we mean a place where a square meal can be had, and where the color of the cook's hair is not deducible from the soup and cannot be argued out either from batter-cakes or biscuits. If Cincinnati insists on a census of hasheries like these, we suppose she'll beat us. When it comes to doing a large thing in a mean way, she is always ahead. —Missouri Democrat

AN ORDINANCE

For the widening, straightening and improvement of Union street, from the intersection of Perry street, northerly to the city line

Be it enacted and ordained by the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Titusville, Pennsylvania, that it is hereby enacted and ordained by the authority of the same

SECTION 1 That Union street in said city of Titusville, from its intersection with Perry street northwardly to the city line, be widened, straightened and improved as follows: The west line of said Union street be established as follows: Ye to begin at a post set in the line of the west line of Perry street 48 8 to 100 feet north of the north line of said street, from hence running northerly deflecting 0 deg 41 min west from the west line of Perry street 134 18 100 feet to a post, thence from said last deflection line on a tangent curving west to the right with a radius of 3 0 feet, 238 2-100 feet to a post, thence in a straight line tangent to the last described curve 38 34-100 feet to a post, thence from said line as a tangent curving with radius of 250 feet, 134 17 100 feet to a post thence in a straight line tangent to the last described curve 313 14 100 feet on the land adjoining the north line of said city of Titusville The east line of said street to be parallel to and fifty feet distant from the west line above described.

Sect. 2. That the damages if any shall may be sustained by the owner or owners, of lands by reason of the widening, straightening and improvement of Union street, as described in the next preceding section of this ordinance, when properly ascertained, shall be paid by the city at large, and when so ascertained and paid the amount thereof shall be assessed upon and paid by the owners of properties benefited by the said widening, straightening and improvement of Union street.

SEC. 3. That the ordinance and the proviso thereto entered by the Common Council of the City of Titusville passed October 25, 1871, and approved by the Mayor October 26, 1871, in relation to the widening and straightening of Union street, at the head of Perry street, be and the same is hereby repealed.

ROSADALIS

ROSADALIS

THE INGREDIENTS THAT COMPOSE ROSADALIS are published on every package, therefore it is not a secret preparation, consequently

PHYSICIANS PRESCRIBE IT

THE UNDERSIGNED PHYSICIANS have used Rosadalis in their practice for the past three years and freely endorse it as a reliable Alterative and Blood Purifier.
